Monument at Washington Recalls Notable Services Rendered by Indian Chief to Young Republic

In the old Congressional cemetery at Washington stands a monument, the subject of which is known to very few of even the well-informed citizens of this country. It commemorates Pushmataha, a Choctaw Indian chief whose remains lie underneath. The monument was erected by his brother chiefs who were associated with him in a delegation to Washington in 1824.

Pushmataha was chiefly celebrated for his unflinching friendship for the young American republic. Session, out his life he was able to serve in this friendship in who served in ways. During all be there to stand headed the while seven former mem portion of his see house will again enter the not. Of the initiates two have an service as attaches of the house, so they are well versed in parliamentary procedure.

The senate will be short by two of its usual 16 holdovers. The naming of men to fill two extra vacancies at the recent primary was caused by the death of Frank M. Cooper of the 27th district and the resignation of E. T. Wilson, of the 9th district. Mr. Wilson resigned to become state's attorney.

Of the 18 members nominated for the senate in the recent primary, nine served in the 1921 session, while of the nine newcomers, five formerly served in the upper body.

Baseball Gossip

Callahan hit the old apple at a .666 clip yesterday in six times up. Mr. Knowles was visibly jarred when Callahan put the first one over the fence. Callahan says he will land Pete the bag of flour so that he can put on a pancake shower at his porch party Saturday night.

Billy Wynne hit his over the mortar and pestle and will get a box of pink pills. He will hand these around after Pete's pancake shower.

Mr. Peters asks us to announce that since Guiney Quinn has been wearing his rubber shirt he has decided to shift to the overalls he won Wednesday with his homer. If Pete appears looking over his shoulder, wondering fans should understand that the overalls are under his regular spangles.

Rube Elrod hung a medal on himself at Perry yesterday when he let Ted Easterly's crew down without a hit. Rube has lots of tuff at times, and if he could forget that there are one or two other ball players in the world might get along better.

Lake City seems to be on the same hitting slump that recently attacked the Pals, and which the Yanks, in the time, went through. We hope the clubs will be going at regulation when they tie up in the six next week.

Cocoanuts Sent Home to Grow a Little More Hair

There will be melodious droning of Empire Poole's bazoo at the ball yard this afternoon, and the Brooksville bats will be given a rest. The Cocoanuts have gone home, their engagement cancelled because they were too green, and because they need a little more hair on their baseball hides.

The Cocoa club was made up of some old-time ball players, some without arms and legs, but with heads, and some with arms and legs but no heads. And to add to their general discomfiture the Pals got back on their hitting eyes and clouted the ball far and near.

Manager Bonz decided last night, after yesterday's one-sided affair, that it would not be worth while to play the visitors again today, and preferred to have the Pals rest up for the busy week with Lake City, beginning Monday in Lake City. It was erroneously stated that Barrett, of Savannah, would be here in time for the Lake City series. Barrett will come July 1, if he comes on the terms offered. He will add still more strength to the Pals' hitting capacity.

Mass Meeting of Potato Growers in Hastings Tonight

A number of Palatka bankers and merchants will go to Hastings tonight to attend the mass meeting of potato growers which will be held there tonight, and which will be addressed by State Marketing Commissioner L. M. Rhodes. Mr. Rhodes will speak on cooperative buying and selling, and an effort will be made to organize the growers into an association for their own protection and benefit.

Chats With Your Gas Man

Sometimes you buy more meat than you need and some of it is wasted, but you do not get angry with your butcher for selling it. Or, you purchase more fruit or vegetables than you can possibly use, but you do not complain to your grocer. If you throw away a little coal with the ashes, you do not blame the coal man. You leave the refrigerator open and waste the ice, but you do not quarrel with the ice wagon driver.

Of course not!

But sometimes when people carelessly waste gas, they blame the gas company. Neither merchants nor a gas company can control the use you make of a commodity.

Your gas company, however, while urging you to use gas, begs you not to waste it.

Part of its service is to give you full value, and to see that you pay only for what you use and to use all that you pay for.

The Race Victory at INDIANAPOLIS
The Road Victory at WICHITA
Help You Choose Tires

500 miles at 94.48 miles an hour—a relentless grind over a rough-finished, sun-baked concrete and brick pavement at record-breaking speed—that is the gruelling test Oldfield Cord Tires underwent successfully at Indianapolis Speedway May 30th. They were on the winner's car for the third successive year and on eight of the ten finishing in the money, upholding the confidence and ability of these tires to meet the greatest demands of speed, endurance and safety. Their records in every other important race have been equally as good.

Consider this achievement along with another test of Oldfield quality made at Wichita, Kansas, this past winter and early spring.

34,525 miles on rutted, icy Kansas roads, running day and night on a Studebaker stock car without a single tire change. This test was made by a group of Wichita automotive dealers in a tire, oil and gasoline economy run. Mayor Kemp of Wichita was official observer and made affidavit to the mileage and service given by Oldfield tires.

You may never subject your tires to the gruelling experience of Indianapolis nor the steady grind of bad winter roads, but it is good to know you can get such safety and mileage economy by buying Oldfield tires. Ask your nearest dealer.

165% Increased Business
The buying public is the surest barometer of the value of any article. Their approval of Oldfield value has been demonstrated by the increase of 165% in business for the first five months of 1922 over the corresponding period of 1921.

Agents Everywhere
Oldfield Tires are distributed through 73 branches and distributing warehouses in all parts of the United States. More dealers are constantly becoming Oldfield agencies and Oldfield Tires are now available in your community.
